Headline:
Sunshine and showers.

Today:

A cold start for some inland areas, but sunny spells soon recovering temperatures, enough to develop showers from late morning, with some turning heavier for the afternoon, particularly toward the northern end of the Great Glen. Winds light. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:

Showers dying away during the evening, leaving the vast majority dry overnight with clear skies. However cloud thickening in Hebrides bringing the chance of some rain before dawn. Winds light. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Wednesday:

Sunshine and showers again, but outbreaks more frequent and heavier than Tuesday, with some thunderstorms appearing, though these probably not affecting the Hebrides. Light winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:

Continuing with the showery theme, but becoming more unsettled with outbreaks quite frequent, also merging to longer periods of rain sporadically, which turns heavy at times.
